

CONTRACTOR STANDARD OF CARE

A significant part of litigation work involves testimony related to the standard of care for general contractors and trade professionals. Pacific Property Consultants carefully evaluates relevant building codes, contract documents and project communications to help identify the contractual and legal responsibilities of all parties involved. When a contractor's livelihood and reputation is on the line, it is important to hire an expert who not only has walked in the contractor's shoes but understands the specific codes and laws affecting the industry.
